

Externity

WHITE PAPER

Introduction

EXTERNITY is a new solution in the DeFi Ecosystem. The milestone that we will achieve is to create a new ecosystem full of useful features for our users. We will provide an utilities for our users and holders.

Externity token will be the token used in the ecosystem. To benefit from the platform's premium services, users must hold a quantity of Externity tokens in staking. Holders are thus doubly rewarded by having access to the Externity App services and rewards.

Vision

Externity ecosystems are made to keep crypto investors away from scam projects and make it easier for them to make decisions.

To save time and money by gathering all relevant information in one platform.

Mission

Externity App will provide services that enable users to quickly position themselves on niche projects and locate the best available signals. Users must own a certain amount of the Externity token in order to take advantage of these services.

We intend to make our platform a place where relevant projects can be launched and users can buy tokens directly, allowing our users to be among the first investors in future high-quality projects with great potential. Our LaunchPad's initial version is scheduled to be released on January.
